In connection with the various regular Chinese detectives and agents attached to S.1. I attach a list of their respective duties from which it will be seen that the transfer of any of them will necessitate a redistribution of their duties and a subsequent decrease of surveillance of labour and political matters.

There must be no decrease in the surveillance over labour and political matters
MJG

In addition to the above Chinese detectives and agents there are also 3 secret agents attach d to S.1. whose duties are divided as follows:-

1 man for the detection of communism and labour unrest in the Western District

1 man for the detection of communism and labour unrest in the Eastern District

1 man for the detection of communism in the Settlement - a more or less free land.

Until other arrangements are made, these men should give attention to labour and political matters, and information and instructions to them will have to be given through Deputy Chief of S2
MJG

These men are available for transfer but some arrangements will have to be arrived at whereby any information re: labour movements would be communicated to S.1.

I also record for your consideration that S.1. should complete all communistic files and cases in their possession which would give S.2. a clean start.

O.K.
MJG

The execution of warrants and other Court Orders will, I take it, be executed by the staff of S.2 and the Duty Roster of Officers of the Special Branch available after office hours will stand as it is.

Yes
MJG

It will also be necessary in view of approaching anniversaries during the present month for some definite arrangement to be arrived at in order to avoid over-lapping of work between the two Sections.

Until more definite arrangements can be made all papers dealing with communistic matters must pass through the senior officer of S1 who will hand authority to Deputy S2 to make investigations on such matters.
